DNA

Dinja Naqra A]jar

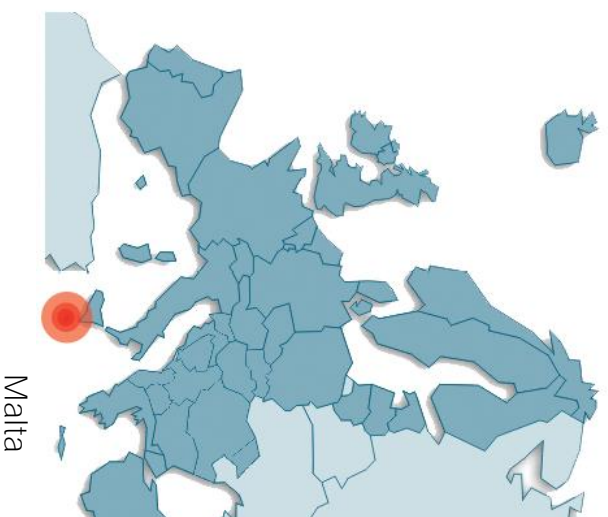

DNA...Dinja Naqra A'liar

This year's EuroForum in Malta, being named DNA, apart from the biological term we also have a much simpler subtitle, in Maltese, Dinja Naqra Ahjar; which means having a better world. Euroforum 2008 will fall in line with the European theme of the year but dealt differently. Instead of discussing if diversity is right or wrong or how can we solve the problem of diversity, we are going one step forward.

We have to be convinced that we can have a better world by understanding who we are and what we have. We have to be proud of diversity, we have to celebrate diversity. We are all part of the human race BUT each of us is different. And this is what makes you and me special. We will deal with topics such as the environment and how our cultures, with different mentalities, will work together to preserve our natural and social environment.

This will be the focus of the Euroforum organized by ZAK in Malta being held between Friday 21st till Tuesday 25th March 2008. (Arrivals before Friday afternoon—departures after Sunday afternoon).

But not to reveal more, ZAK would like to ask you to help with one thing... come and enjoy this experience to the full. Not to promote Malta, not to promote our organisations but above all to promote diversity: to celebrate diversity: our DNA.

...for a better world
